Achievements & Activities

- Developed practical knowledge of financial markets through over 6 years of independent trading and market analysis, with a focus on technical analysis, chart behavior and risk management across traditional and digital assets.
- Selected as the only student from my university for exchange programs in Japan and South Korea, gaining experience in multicultural teams and fully English-speaking academic environments.
- Took initiative in a case study project in South Korea by proposing and developing the core startup concept, contributing to a well-received final outcome
- Independently selected and developed the topics for both my Bachelor's and Master's theses, strengthening my analytical thinking, research skills and structured problem solving.
- Actively developing practical skills in AI and automation through self-directed projects, including building AI agents, personal productivity tools and small applications with a focus on workflow automation and efficiency, without a formal development background.
